- c) nature of relationship;
- d) nature, material terms, monetary value and particulars of the contract or arrangement;
- e) any other information relevant or important for the members to take a decision on the proposed resolution

9. Transactions considered under ordinary course of business and on arm's length basis

The phrase "ordinary course of business" is not defined under the Companies Act 2013 or rules made there under. The ordinary course of business shall cover the usual transactions, customs and practices of the company. A variety of factors such as size and volume of transactions, arm's length, frequency, purpose of the transaction, etc shall be considered for making an assessment as to whether a transaction is in the ordinary course of business or not.

The explanation to Section 188 of the Act states that the expression "arm's length transaction" means a transaction between two related parties that is conducted as if they were unrelated, so that there is no conflict of interest. However it would be pertinent to note that methodologies and approaches for determining the "Arm's Length Transactions" have not been prescribed in the Act. In the absence of any information/methodology/approach for determining the "Arm's Length Transaction" in the Act, such methodologies/approaches existing under “Indian Transfer Pricing Guidelines” contained in the Income Tax Act, 1961 shall be adopted.

Nothing contained in Section 188 (1) of the Act shall apply to any transactions entered into by the company in its ordinary course of business and arm’s length basis. Regulation 23 (2) of SEBI (Listing Obligations & Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 states that all related party transactions shall require prior approval of the Audit Committee. As of now, the provisions as specified in Regulations 23 are not mandatorily applicable to our Company since the Company falls within the threshold limits specified under Regulations 15 (2) of SEBI (Listing Obligations & Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 but as a matter of good corporate governance, all endeavors shall be undertaken to ensure compliance with the same.

However, Section 92F (ii) of Income Tax Act, 1961 defines the "arm's length price" as a price which is applied or proposed to be applied in a transaction between persons other than associated enterprises, in uncontrolled conditions.

Arm’s length basis means the transactions should be independent and is being done on same terms and conditions as if done with some unrelated party. The concept of arm’s length transaction ensures that both parties in the transaction are acting in their own self interest and are not subject to any pressure or compulsion from other party.

10. Omnibus Approval from Audit Committee

All related party transactions shall require prior approval of the Audit Committee. However, the Audit Committee may grant omnibus approval for Related Party Transactions proposed to be entered by the Company subject to the following conditions:-

- 1) The Committee shall lay down the criteria for granting the omnibus approval in line with this Policy and such approval shall be applicable in respect of transactions which are repetitive in nature.
- 2) The Committee should satisfy itself the need for such omnibus approval and that such approval is in the interest of the Company.
- 3) Such omnibus approval shall specify:

 - b) Nature of transaction
 - c) Period of transaction
 - d) Maximum amount of transactions that can be entered into
 - e) The indicative base price/ current contracted price and formula for variation in price, if any
 - f) Other conditions which the Committee deems fit.

- 4) Where the need for Related Party Transaction cannot be foreseen and the aforesaid details are not available, the Committee can give omnibus approval for such transactions subject to their value not exceeding Rs. 1 crore per transaction. The Committee will review at least on a quarterly basis, the details of all related party transactions entered into by the Company pursuant to each of the omnibus approval given.
- 5) Such omnibus approvals shall be valid for a period of not exceeding one year and shall require fresh approvals after expiry of one year.

The Committee shall consider all of the relevant facts and circumstances regarding the Related Party Transaction, and shall evaluate all options available to the Company, including ratification, revision or termination of the Related Party Transaction. The Committee shall also examine the facts and circumstances pertaining to the failure of reporting such Related Party Transaction to the Committee under this Policy, and shall take any such action, it deems appropriate.

In any case, where the Committee determines not to ratify a Related Party Transaction that has been commenced without approval, the Committee, as appropriate, may direct additional actions including, but not limited to, immediate discontinuation or rescission of the transaction. In connection with any review of a Related Party Transaction, the Committee has authority to modify or waive any procedural requirements of this Policy.
